Dedication

Let's face it, the 6 hour 25 minute long schooldays were just about one in the same. From struggling to get to first period on time, to the joy of eating school food, to carrying books home for a fun-filled night of homework, a hectic life was set. Yet, we knew in the end, somehow the dedication would pay off. Every so often, a glimpse of success filled our eyes to rescue us from the monotony.

Slowly but surely, every day put us one step closer to our goal, GRADUATION! Yes, the climb up the academic ladder is a long, hard one, but the rewards are great. Although we remember the mental aggravation we endured, we strive for the estatic feeling of accomplishment.

We, the editors and staff of the "El Lancero," hope that you see this year as we have seen it — as a "Year of Success."

During the last two weeks of October and the first week and a half of November, every student, especially the senior girls, were filled with excitement as each anticipated the announcement of the homecoming court and queen.

The Senior class voted for the top ten on October 25. The announcements were made during a pep rally on October 27. The top ten girls were: Hope Baca, Lea Brown, Wendy Floyd, Kim Harding, Jeannie Hindley, Priscilla Ortega, Jenny Rios, Kim Sampson, Sheila Schneider, and Michelle Vasquez.

A week later, the Senior class voted for the top five girls. The homecoming court was announced on November 4. The top five and their escorts were: Lea Brown, Larry Morales; Kim Harding, Jose Velez; Kim Sampson, Mike Stephens; Sheila Schneider, Danny Haile; Michelle Vasquez, Martin Granado. From that day until November 10, the girls were anticipating the announcement of the queen. As Mr. Nuechterlein's voice filled the stadium on homecoming night, the excitement of the princesses reached its peak.

Princess Lea Brown was honored on Tourist Day. The five princesses were auctioned off in front of the entire school to the highest bidder. Lea was bought for $10.50, Kim Harding $9.00, Kim Sampson $4.00, Sheila Schneider $5.50, and Michelle Vasquez $10.00.

On Kiddie Day, Princess Kim Harding was honored. The activity was a whipped cream pie catch. Each princess and her escort was tied back to back. One had to throw a pie into the air and the other one had to catch it without dropping it. Princess Kim Sampson was honored on Black and White Day. The princesses and their escorts had an iceblock race. The object was to circle Senior Square on lap.

Spirit Day, or "The Big Day", honored Princess Sheila Schneider and Princess Michelle Vasquez. That day included a big pep rally in the gym.

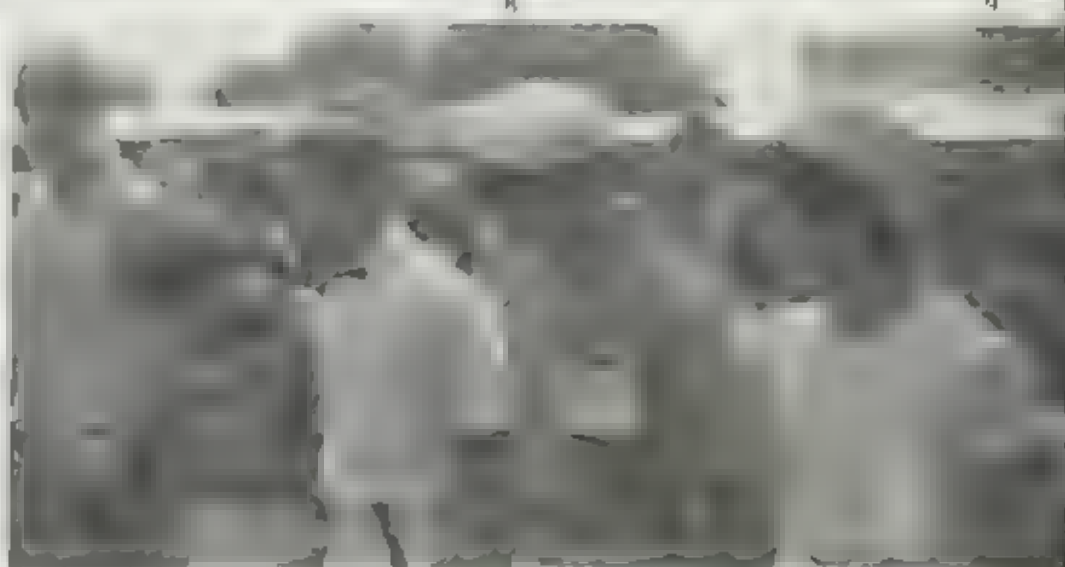

The spirit and enthusiasm that filled Norwalk High during Homecoming Week will not be easily be forgotten. All in all, the week turned out to be an enjoyable and successful event!

On the night of November 10, the Tall Flags and Drill Team tunnel saluted as each princess elegantly proceeded down the 50-yard line with her father to the melody of "Let it be me."

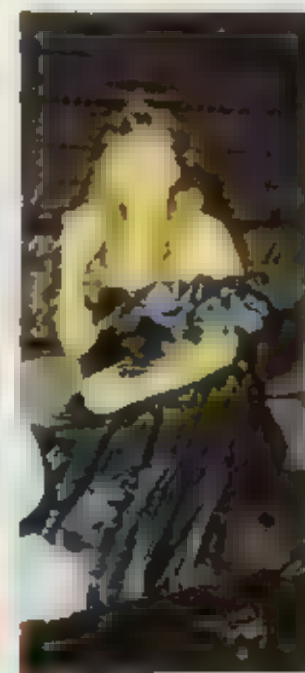

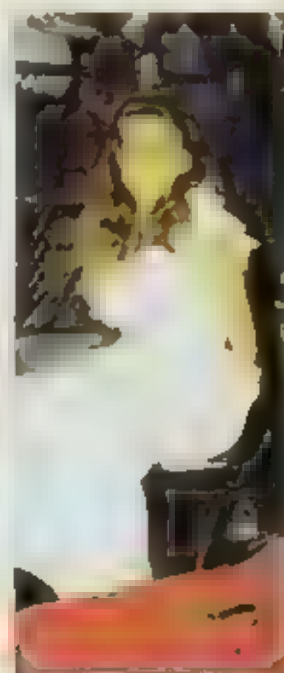

As the procession started, the beautiful and charming princesses were chauffeured around the stadium on five luxurious convertible Mustangs. The princesses, supportive of one another, held hands as they anxiously awaited the crowning.

The atmosphere was fit for a king, or in this case, a queen, as the crowd cheered for their favorite princess. The peak of excitement broke as Michelle Vasquez was crowned the 1983-84 Homecoming Queen. The crowd let loose and the sky became a collage of brightly colored fireworks and balloons. It was a time to be remembered by all.

A Norwalk Tradition

This years Varsity Football team was small in size and number but big in heart and pride. Much of the credit of this years successful team goes to head coach Jeff Brinkley who had a lot of confidence throughout the year and was behind each individual all the way. Without him the team would not have been what it was. Passing was the strong point of our offense, along with a tough running game the Lancers scored many points.

Opposing teams had a hard time scoring against our outstanding defense. The Lancer defense proved this against Mountain View with a 40-0 shut out.

We had a lot of young talent on the team which should make for another successful season next year.

The 1983-84 Freshmen football team was very ambitious throughout the entire season. These young and vivacious athletes learned and perfected the art of high school football.

This years Freshmen football season has been the most spirited one in a long time. The defection of losing has continually been with this team; and that feeling was there again with the Lancers as the season came to an end. Overall the team did their superhuman best, led by the dedicated coaching of Mr. Rick Secoda.

Varsity Tennis

In the past years, Norwalk High Schools Girls Athletics have been small but productive. Due to the great increase in school enrollment this past year, Girls Athletics enlarged greatly. The newest addition is Junior Varsity Girls Tennis. These young girls had the greatest potential, but were not quite ready for Varsity plays. To better their skills, they were placed on the Junior Varsity team with great hopes for acceleration toward next year's Varsity team. Their success as a team was questionable but the improvement of individual success was great! The team learned how to better themselves on their offensive plays as well as their defensive plays, and also observed and practiced good sportsmanship.

The 1983-84 Girls Junior Varsity Tennis team consisted of Rachel Barndt, Dena Cabrera, Charlotte Fields, Kum Lee, Judy Onofre, and Lena Ramirez

Although the outstanding Frosh/Soph Cross Country team had only two returning teammates, they were able to follow in the successful tradition of their Varsity teammates. Despite the fact that the team was young in age and especially in experience, they also were able to clinch the League Championship title for the fourth time.

Even though they ran only two miles to the Varsity's three, they ran just as far and practiced just as hard as Varsity did. In doing this, the young team proved that hard work, not natural ability or experience, is what makes a profitable season. This hard work paid off not only during the League meets but also during the pre-League season. They captured many medals at the Sonora and Esperanza Invitationals and also the 1st place plaque at Sonora.

Their valuable accomplishments have undoubtedly set the groundwork for successful future years in the Norwalk Cross Country program.

Frosh Cross Country

What an awesome year the Varsity Cross Country team had! For the fifth consecutive year, the team, coached by Jim Stuart, reached its goal by competing in CIF. It has also been the fourth consecutive season that the team became League Champions.

The runners survived the grueling practices that are vital to a successful season. They were willing to endure the pain and suffering that often accompanied the practices. Throughout the season, the team was plagued with numerous injuries. Nonetheless, the dedicated runners managed to stick together and were victorious once again!

Norwalk High's '83-'84 Junior Varsity Volleyball team had a semi-successful season. Under the supervision of coach Bill Mayer, The players began practicing for the season even before school started. The girls devoted part of their summer to gain some success.

The teams first pre-league game was against Regina Ceilli held at our gym. Unfortunately the girls lost. Evidently, that game did not make the girls lose confidence because they won their first league game.

J. V. Basketball

The boys Varsity basketball team had a heartbreaking season, but one our campus will never forget. With high hopes of a position in the CIF play-offs the team started early in the year by playing in many tournaments and competing in a summer league in which they placed first.

Potential, hard work, dedication, & support from the fans usually means a winning team, but this was not so when it came to the 1983-84 team. The team was successful in having many followers and much school spirit. George Medina and Steve Kooiman were chosen for 1st team all-league.

Starting the season with six returning letterwomen, the Lady Lancers showed potential for a successful team. Led by captains Michelle Goodwin and Debbie Pentecost, they strived for team unity and overall team improvement.

Although the wins were not present, the spirit and dedication never ceased. For this team, success was defined differently: working together, having a great time, and playing the game mentally as well as physically. Every game was well fought and was used as a learning experience, with basketball and life. With the many different personalities, there never seemed a dull moment for Coach Barrie Ponce. "Go For It!" was the team's motto and it reflected the rowdiness for which the team was notorious.

Basketball

The 1983-84 Junior Varsity Girls basketball team worked very hard this past year to become one of Norwalk High's best young basketball teams. The seasons record was 3-20. Although their record wasn't much to rave about, the team was still content with the season because the girls knew that they tried their hardest to win. Under the assistance of Coach Bill Moyer, the members showed their desire for success through long practices every weekday during the season. This team has surely proven to be a success.

The team consisted of 10 skillful players, Richard Aguilar, Manuel Gonzales, Jose Hernandez, Alfredo Mendoza, Hien Nguyen, Albert Quinonez, Ruben Rodriguez, Abraham Urias, Caesar Veloz, and Billy Ward.

-Working Hard At Being A Success-

Norwalk High School's 1983-84 Junior Varsity Wrestling team proved to be a fine success. The season practices began November 7. Nevertheless, the thirty-five aspiring athletes were eager to begin competing even before the season began. Determined as they were, they lost their first two pre-season tournaments against Gahr and El Rancho. However, John Conrique, Lars Morita, and Jeff Bushee all earned third place medals. The team's heavy-weight weighed in at 200 lbs. Their lightweight weighed in at 98 lbs.

Despite their first two losses, the team did not give up a fight throughout the season. The talented athletes were coached by John Haupt and David Suarez. Both felt that this young wrestling had the strength and will to reach their ultimate goal. They knew that the team had the potential to become champions. The vitality and stamina that the players had assured the coaches of the bright future of upcoming Norwalk wrestling teams. We wish the team continued SUCCESS!!!

2. "Well, this is another fine mess you've gotten me into."

Wrestlers In Action!

In the beginning of the wrestling season, the Varsity Wrestling coaches, David Suarez, Ray Nieman, and Alex Gutierrez, all agreed that their team would rise to great heights. And that they did. The team proved their rise to success by finishing the season in second place.

The wrestling team entered many tournaments this past year. Their first tournament was the El Rancho Varsity Tournament. There, the team placed 12th out of 32 teams. Individually, Scott Stacer placed first, David Daniel placed second, and Albert Ayala placed third. In the next tournament, the team competed at Mayfair High School. The Lancers placed tenth out of 32 teams.

On February 9, the wrestlers competed in Suburban League Finals. Once again, they came back on top. Albert Ayala, Gordon Stacer, and Scott Stacer placed first. Bob Holler and Rick Jorgenson earned second place medals and Steve Maugh placed third. Soon after, Gordon Stacer and Scott Stacer proceeded to the CIF finals.

The Norwalk High Royal Lancer Band had a very active and successful year in the many parades and field tournaments that they participated in. They started their busy year at the Artesia Parade and Pomona Fair. Their first field competition was at La Habra High which proved to be prosperous as each of the performing groups, Band, Drill Team, and Tall Flags brought back trophies. They continued to do well throughout the remainder of the year although they competed against many larger bands. One of their biggest events was the two day Palmdale Christmas Parade and Field Tournament.

The 4th Annual Norwalk High Field Show Tournament which they hosted was also a two day event. It was extended because of the overwhelming response from participating schools. The tournament was held at Excelsior Stadium on the first day and at La Mirada Stadium the second

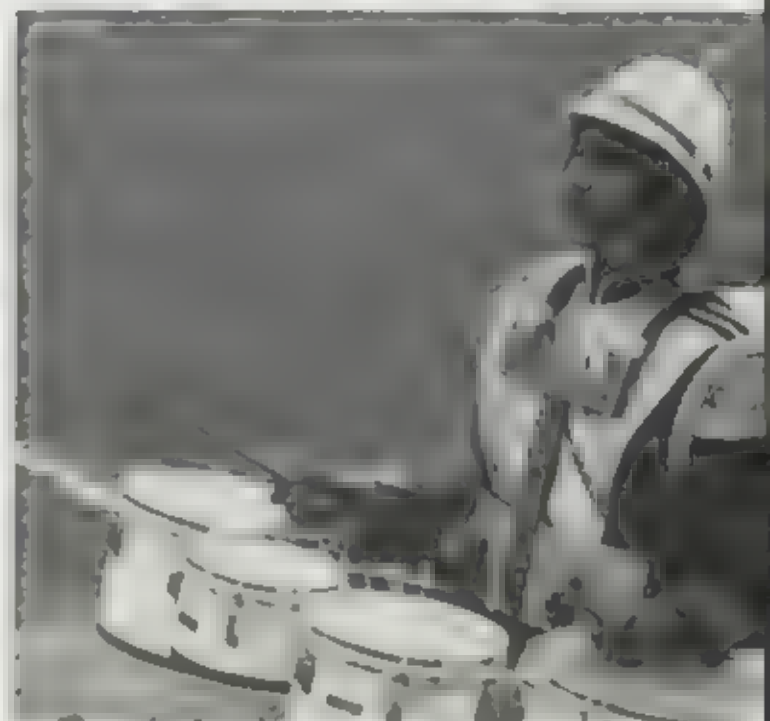

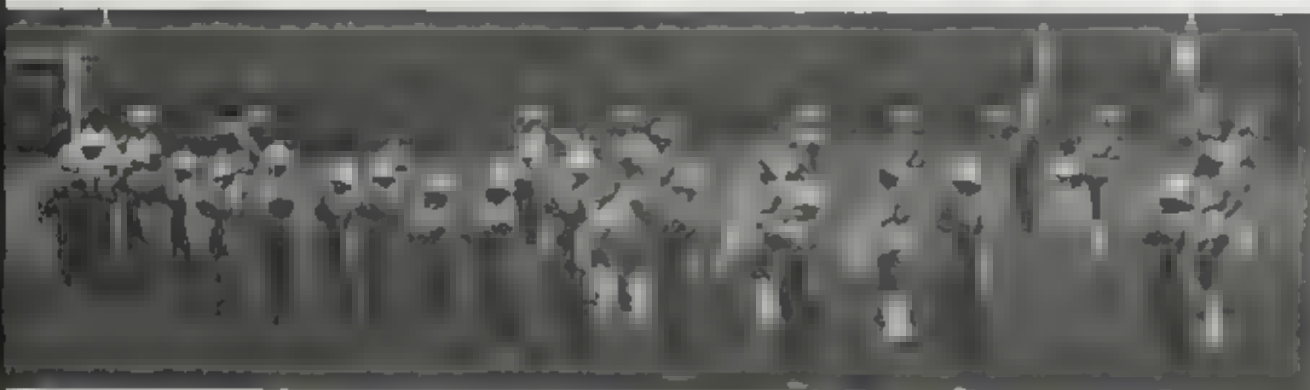

Throughout all the tough competition the Norwalk H.S. Royal Lancer Band encountered they kept their pride and had a victorious year

This year's pep rallies brought unity and success to Norwalk High School. Such groups as Cheerleaders, band, and tall flags lead the crowd in cheering and supporting the school's athletes. In return, the teams showed their appreciation by having a prosperous and accomplishing year.

Participation from each class made "Class Competition". The winning class was awarded with the spirit jug for the week. The senior class officers also attempted to bring back the tradition of "Senior Rise" at pep rallies.

Many people contributed in the production of numerous activities for the pep rallies. Many skits were done by cheerleaders; several games were played by countless people of all grades.

However, not only did students participate, teachers were also at pep rallies. Many teachers dressed up for the Halloween rally; several risked having a pie thrown in the face for the Annual Pie-in-the-eye contest. Overall, the pep rallies were undoubtedly a success.

Without a doubt Norwalk High's pep squad had a year to remember. There was one major change at the varsity level. Instead of having song & yell as separate squads the two were joined to form Varsity Cheer. This change gave the squad more freedom to do many kinds of routines.

Connie Gilbert was the new advisor. She helped the girls considerably by offering many suggestions. Furthermore she kept an open mind when a cheerleader had an idea of her own.

In addition to performing well, the duties of spiritleaders are promoting school spirit and competing against other schools' cheerleaders. The Norwalk pep squad excelled in all these areas by holding exciting rallies, choreographing many creative routines and placing highly in many competitions.

The quality of cheerleaders and school spirit has risen tremendously due to hard work by the units and involvement of the crowd. Keeping spirit alive is a difficult job, but with this group of girls, who led the school all year, cheering at Norwalk was not something to be embarrassed about.

One of the most bizarre and exciting events that Norwalk High School had this past year was the Dating Game. The television version was repeated in order to provide some fun and excitement for Norwalk High students and John Glenn students.

The contestants included seniors: Steve Dolezal, Jeannie Hindley, Jay Jones, Oscar Martinez, Rozella Natividad, Priscilla Ortega, Eric Rogers, Larry Sotello, and Jose Velez. The junior participants were Tish Gonzales, Tess Martinez, and Debbie Nunez. The Sophomore game included Barbie Johnson, Kim Moore, and Lizzy Murillo.

Some of the laughs and excitement were provided by Barbie Johnson, who was caught with stage fright; Kim Moore, whose date was quite shorter than she; Jose Velez who made his singing debut at the game; Oscar Martinez, who recited a love poem; Jeannie Hindley, whose date was ecstatic the first time he saw her.

The game progressed very successfully and, above all, enjoyable. The crowd was highly spirited as they cheered for their favorite bachelor or bachelorettes. The winners included Kim Moore, Steve Dolezal, Tish Gonzales, Jeannie Hindley, And Oscar Martinez. Various prizes were awarded which varied from a night at Golf-N-Stuff to a candlelight dinner at La Barca Restaurant. A memorable evening was spend by all who attended

"All Desperate For A Night Out On The Town"

This year's fall production of "The Shadow Box" got off to a tough start. Three people had to be replaced and they only had two weeks to rehearse. The play was about three people who have a terminal disease and nothing more can be done for them so they are living in a "Cottage" near the City of Hope Hospital with their family for their final day's. This play may not of been the happiest, but it was realistic and down to earth. Since it was so dramatic, these actors had a tremendous challenge ahead of them. But these special people pulled it off very well and the ones who got a chance to see it enjoyed it thoroughly.

It was an exciting and charming evening for everyone as it soon became March 2, 1984, the day of the Lavender and Lace Dance. This year, the gallant event was held at the La Mirada Country Club. Everyone was dressed in formal wear — guys in tuxedos and girls in gowns. They all came to share the food, friendship, music, and memories. As the night went on, the spotlight shone on five special girls: Trina Utley, Pauline Seager, Shelly Ford, Kathy Molyneux, and Kathy Cermak. These young women were selected as the princesses and one was chosen Queen. These girls were selected from the Band, Tall Flags, and Drill Team. The masters of ceremonies, Jeff Deutschman and Ray Rodriguez, both had the honor of announcing this year's Lavender and Lace Queen. It was an intense moment for everybody. Everyone had a favorite but no one sure who would win. Time finally came for the big announcement; all the princesses held each others hands, the winner was . . . Kathy Molyneux.

Soon after, the lights faded and the night came to a close.

Cal-Cadets were an important group of girls and boys in our school. In addition to being students, they were a service group that represented our school in military style. One of the main events that the group participated in was the Bivouac, which was a camping trip to the Firestone Reservation. They had several mock battles. In addition, the cadets acted as guards during the two sessions of Open House.

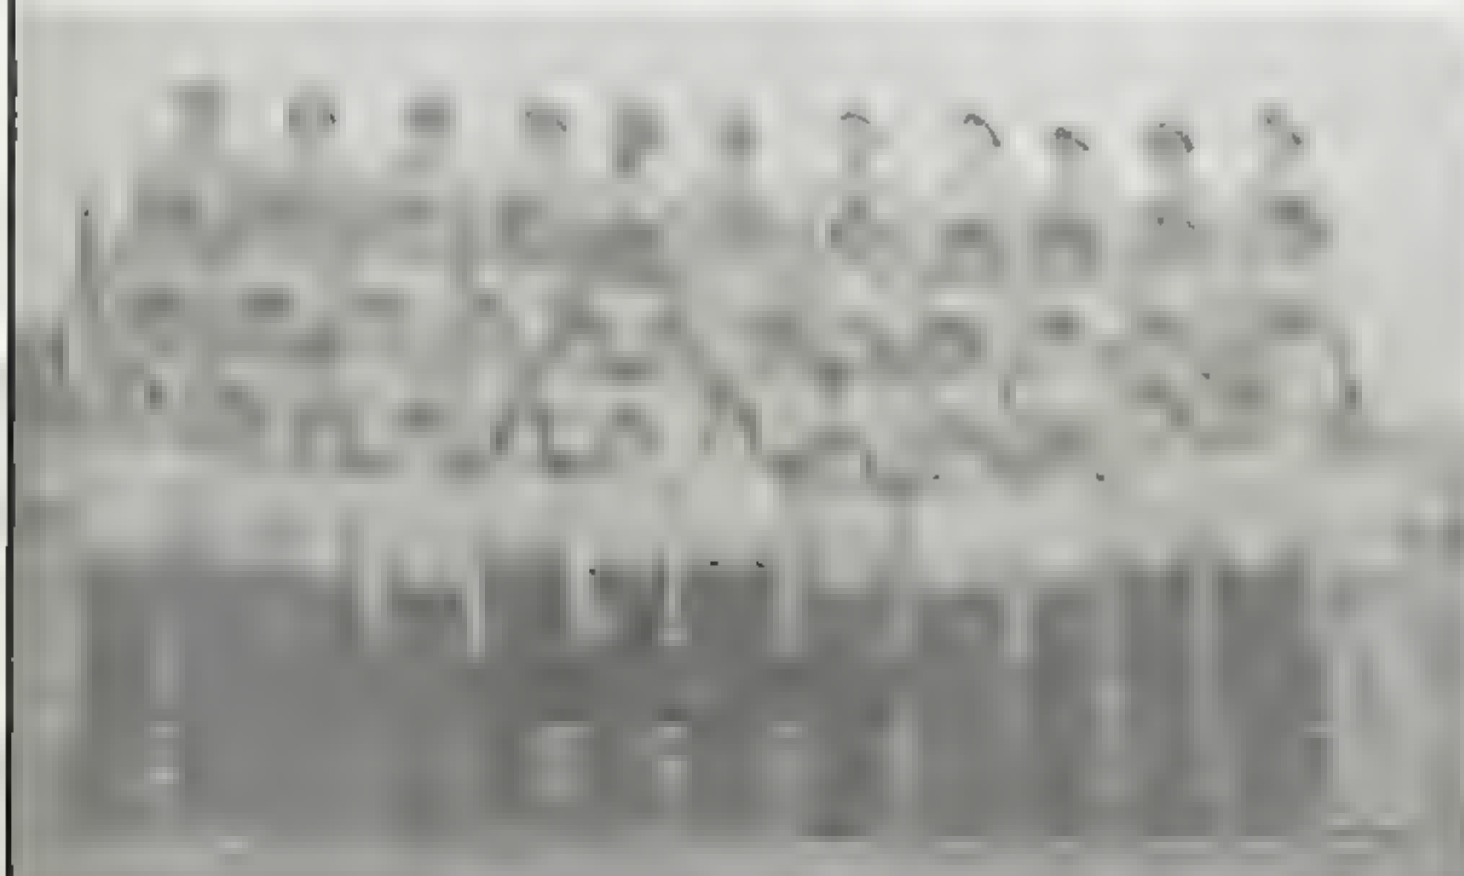

During the class, the students learned numerous tasks. They were taught how to shoot and clean rifles and how to apply first aid. Also, they learned the history of past wars.

The leader of the Cal-Cadets was Mr. Hudson. The training and advice that he gave helped them prepare for a military career. The students tried to work themselves up from being C.F.C. (Cadet First-Class) to Colonel.

The sixty-seven boys and girls made up the very successful 1983-84 California Cadet Corps at Norwalk High School. We wish the corps continued prosperity so that future students will gain great knowledge of military life.

The Newspaper staff of 1983-84 kept all the students of Norwalk High School informed on all the school events and local news by publishing 'The Voice'.

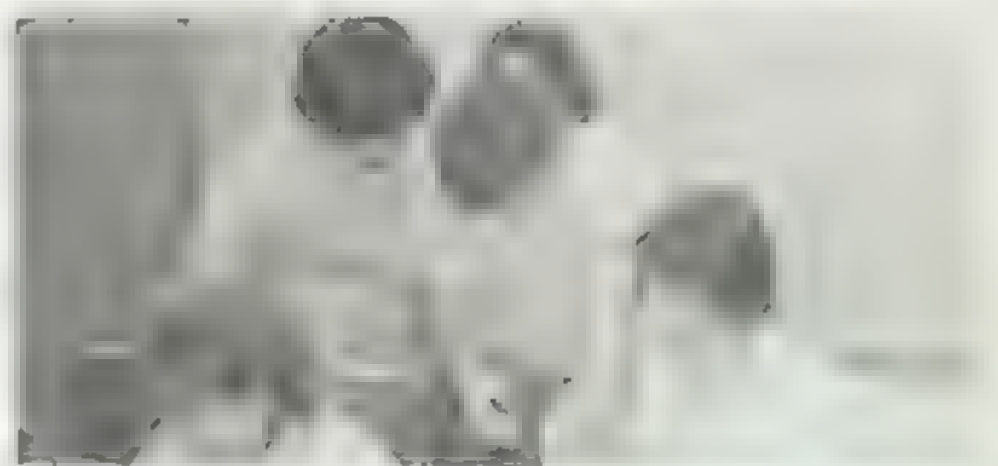

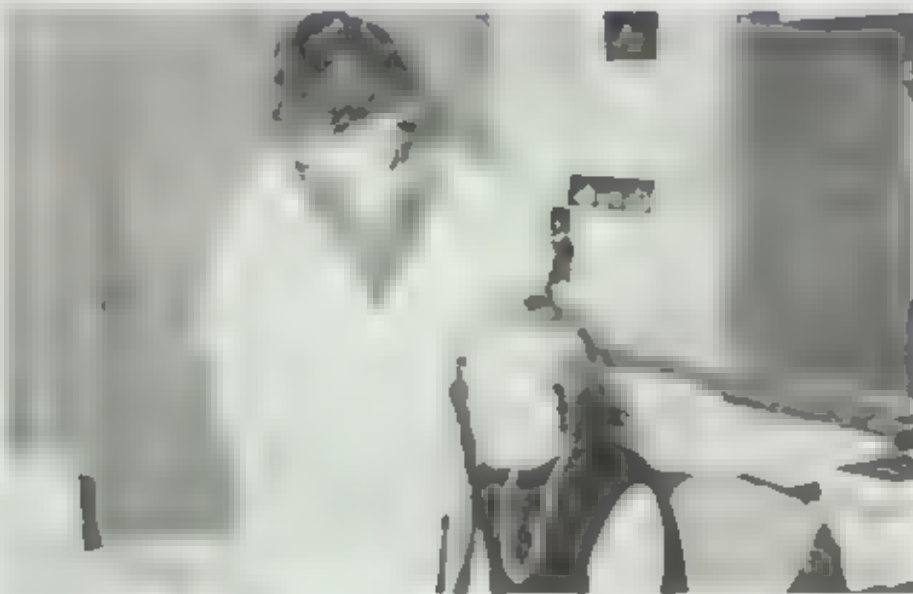

The staff consisted of nine reporters and five editors. The Editor-in-chief was Carol Huff. Page one and News editor was Susan Countess. Page two and editorial Editor was Steve Wagner. Page three, activity editor and also sports editor was Bob Holler.

The newspaper was directed by a new editor, Mrs. Kerr. She helped the staff meet deadlines by editing, proofreading, and aiding the staff in any way she could. "Although the staff was small," Mrs. Kerr admits, "it has worked hard to cover school news and provided a learning atmosphere for students of Journalism."

Says the Editor-in-Chief, Carol Huff about the newspaper, "I am very proud of the staff and I feel that this years issues of the Voice were among the best ever produced."

One word could not describe German Club of 1983-84. Under the supervision of Mrs. Anka Montgomery, the club took part in several activities. The members found success in their sale of almond cookies; they were delighted after singing Christmas carols to patients at a convalescent hospital. They enjoyed their Christmas party and end-of-the-year dinner very much. They also spent a weekend at Camp Sturtevant.

German Club had a very successful and prosperous year, and we wish them more to come.

The MECHA Club, for the first time since 1982, was active. The club consisted of forty members, making it one of the largest active clubs in the school.

MECHA had several fund raisers this past year. The club's most profitable one was the club's participation in Cinco de Mayo.

The MECHA club officers were Angie Hernandez-Pres.; Alice Ramos-Vice-Pres.; Maria Roldan-Sec.; Valerie Hernandez-Treas.; Marty Padilla, Andrea Hernandez-Sgt. at Arms; and Hopie Lopez, Danielle Corral-Student Reps. The adviser was Mr. DeLa Torre.

The School year of 1983-84 turned out to be one of the best years for the Thespians. They started their year off with a candy sale; the money was used to make scenes for their plays. They had a drama in the winter and a musical in the spring. This year's drama was called "The Shadow Box". The spring play chosen for this year was "Free to Be You and Me". Both resulted as great accomplishments for the club. However, the club couldn't have existed without their ever-talented advisor, Ms. Regalado!

The Art Club started the school year of 1983-84 with many fund-raising activities. They sold heart suckers, stationery, and held their own art exhibit. At the exhibit, the students sold their own work. In addition, they set up a booth at the Sadie Hawkins Dance and Cinco de Mayo.

The club met every Thursday to discuss upcoming events. Its leaders were Christine Beltran — President; Rosina Lara — Vice President; Jenny Shaffer — Secretary; and Thai Phan — Treasurer. The adviser was Mrs. Russell.

Thespians, Art Club

Throughout the years at Norwalk High School, there has always been certain clubs that can be called superior.

This past year, the Girl's League reached excellence in the many fundraisers they had and also by serving the elderly. The group's advisor Ms. Eudora Mitchell was very proud of what these girls had accomplished.

The club was lead by President Cynthia Beaudoin; Vice President Yvette Garcia; Secretary Kim Gibson; Teresurer Christine Belton; Campus Hostess Selina Beaudoin.

The girls worked very hard and stayed after school many times to discuss upcoming events. They had a lot of fund raisers including sucker grams, a bowl-a-thon, a candy sale, an egg walk, and a spice sale. The girls also had an "adopt-a-grandparent" day, where they went to the convalescent hospital and talked with the patients and gave them gifts that the girls made.

As can be seen, this club was a true success.

This year the Computer Club advised by Mr. Schneider and Mr. Boyesen were greatly active to become more familiar with the new and upcoming computer era. The President, Joe Chen, had new and bright ideas. He developed a computer programming contest. The contest was based on originality and technique of the program. The club's aim was to raise money to buy more advanced computer technology. They also had a video game booth at Sadie Hawkins and sold M&M candies. To sum it up, the computer club had a very successful year.

Girls League & Computers

What an astounding year it was for the Photo Club. The club has been in existence for three years. They were successfully advised by Mr. Rick Secoda, the acting President was David Drew.

The club was opened to all students on campus from grades eight thru twelve. It has enormously grown year by year. The crew was seen all over campus taking pictures of memorable events. The major activity for this skilled group was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Also, pictures were taken for family portraits.

Norwalk High School's Chess Club had an exceptionally accomplishing year. It comptised seven students; four members were to form the competing team. Mr. Ken Balma, the club's advisor, coached the members to numerous victories. In addition to competing, they also saved money by taking part in the Sadie Hawkins Dance. SUCCESS was definitely the right word to describe our schools chess club. The officers of this club are President: Lelan Petty, Vice President Dana Nogman, and Treasurer Rob Sholty.

The Norwalk High School chapter of the California Scholarships Federation was part of a statewide organization that acknowledged students who achieved his academic excellence.

The club, superbly advised by Mrs. Kerr and Mr. Hubbs, had several field trips. In addition, the club raised funds for scholarships given to a number of members at the end of the school year. They sold candy canes and M & M candies.

As can be seen, the California Scholarship Federation concluded the school year quite successfully.

In the school year of 1983-84 a new and exciting club was formed. The Norwalk High School chapter of the California Junior Scholarship Federation was launched. The club, which consisted of eighteen eighth and ninth grade students, followed the footsteps of CSF in raising funds for scholarships. As adviser Mrs. Kerr assisted the group of youngsters in organizing a candy cane sale and an M & M candy sale. In addition, the members were invited to partake in field trips with CSF. All in all, CJSF had a prosperous year.

The announcement of the 1984 Powder Puff court on February 8 set off a string of Powder Puff events. Five Senior boys—Albert Ayala, Martin Granado, George Medina, Larry Morales, and Larry Sotelo—were selected to be the members of the court.

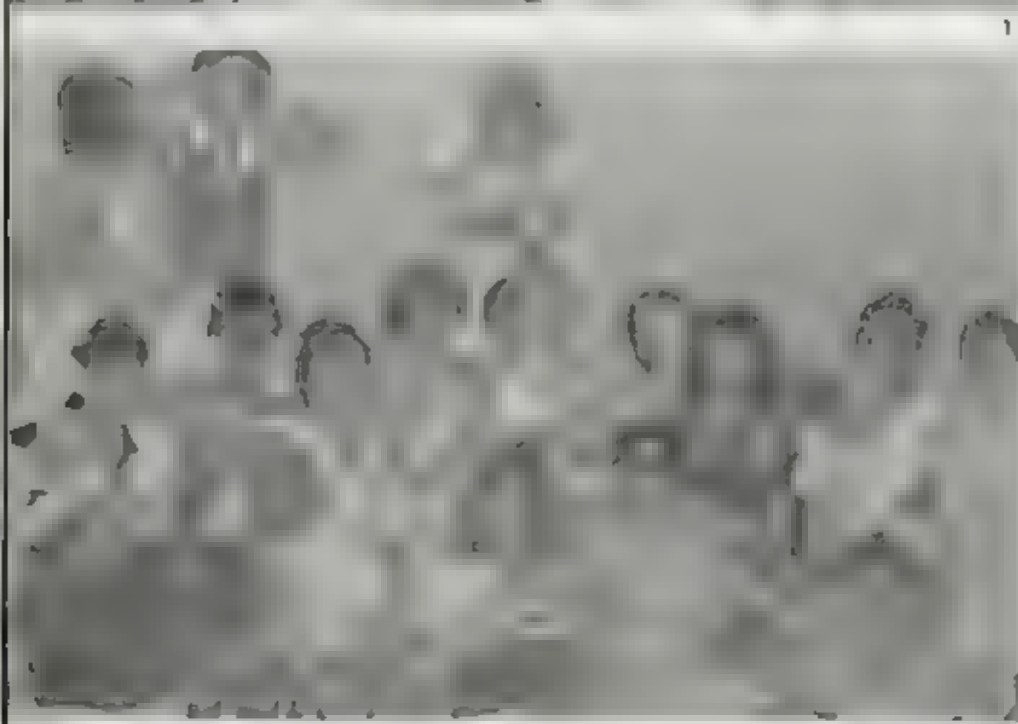

Several days later, Powder Puff week began. It started on a Tuesday as "Inside Out and Backwards Day." The event was an auction of the princes. The following day was "Slob Day." Their activity was a shoe search while tied back-to-back with their escorts. On "Toga Day", the princes spent their snack being wrapped with toilet paper.

Finally, on "Spirit Day," an assembly was held. There, a spotlight on each prince was made. The players of both teams were also announced.

Later that day, the Senior and Junior girls battled it out on the football field. While they were taking a breather during halftime, the Powder Puff King was announced. And the winner was ... George Medina.

-The Traditional Powder Puff Week-

To describe the Powder Puff game of 1984 as just exciting is a grave understatement. It was a thrilling, sensational, and rip-roaring football game.

In the first quarter, the two teams played well defensively. By the end of that quarter, the score was 0-0. The score did not stay as such, however. In the second quarter, Senior quarterback, Michelle Goodwin, trampled over Thee Prowd Crowd to score Thee First Touchdown. In addition, Senior Susan Atkinson scored by making a two-point conversion. In the second half, Senior Tailback Nora Rivera ran past the weakening Junior defense for yet another touchdown. In the fourth and final quarter, Senior Priscilla Ortega ran away with a touchdown to add six more points to the Senior score. To top it off, Susan Atkinson tricked the Junior defense once more by making another two-point conversion.

Once, again, the Senior Class proved itself mighty by defeating the Juniors with a dominating score of 22-0, the widest point spread in Powder Puff history.

Another Year Of Senior Victory!

Friends of George Medina will remember him of his involvement in various activities during his years at Norwalk High School. But most of all, they will remember him as being an outstanding athlete.

In his freshman year, he played football, basketball, and varsity baseball. In addition, he earned the award for Athlete of the Year. From his Sophomore year to his Senior year, he was a member of the varsity basketball and varsity baseball teams. Last but not least, he was selected "Most Athletic" by his classmates in his Senior year.

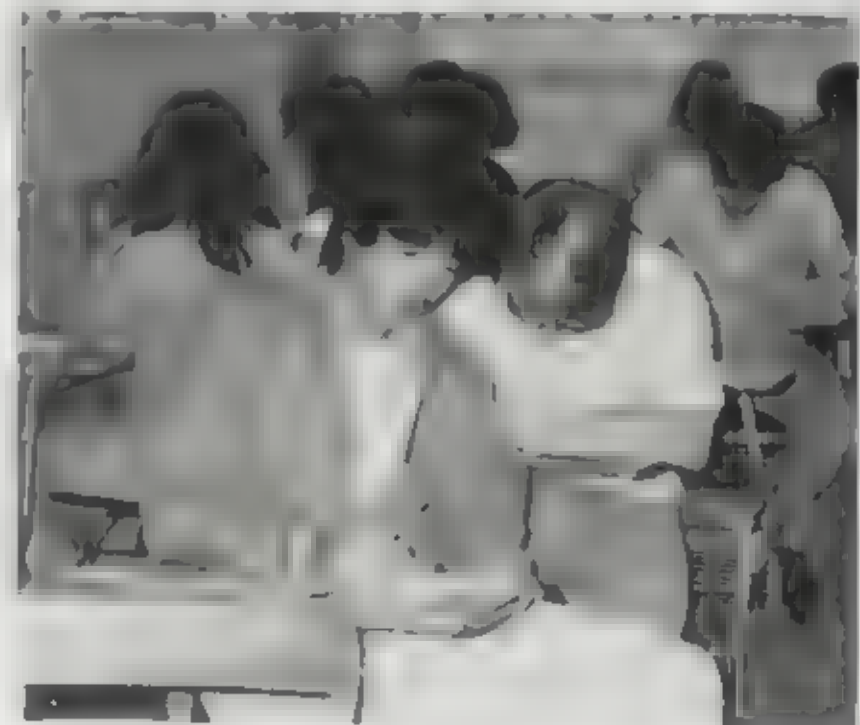

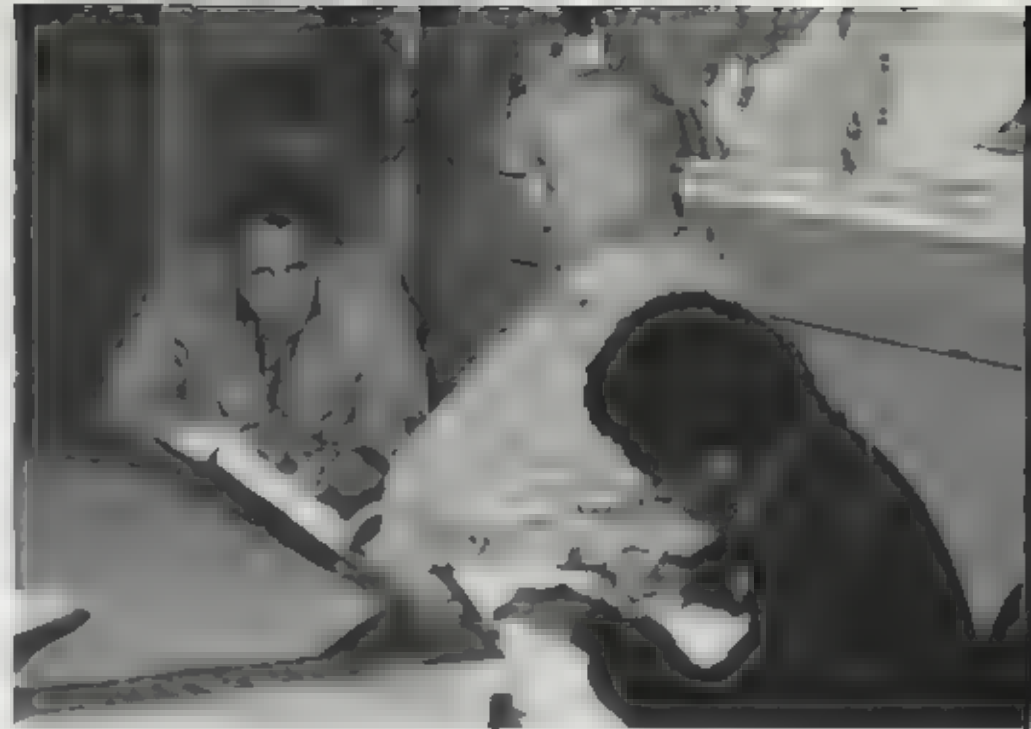

With having been involved as much as he has been, George Medina rightly deserves his title as Powderpuff King of 1984.

ing To Succeed

The Language Arts Dept. accomplished much during the 1983-84 school year. Once again the chair person was Len Jablen. The department had a new honors class, which eventually will become (AP) courses or advanced placement. The teachers in the language dept. include, Mrs. Dailey, Mr. David, Mr. Dyer, Mr. Ferry, Mr. Jablan, Mrs. Keacher, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. McCamly, Mr. J. Smith, Mr. Ron Smith.

The current English requirement, in order to graduate is two years (4 semesters).

The Social Science Department has always been one of the most important divisions in Norwalk High School's curriculum. This past year was no exception. The division was headed by John Hergeshelmer. Other teachers were Mr. Dagget, Mr. DeLa Torre, Mr. Hino, Mr. Ivancevich, Mr. Lantrip, Mr. Maez, Mrs. McCamly, Mr. Nuechterlein, Mrs. Palandech, Mrs. Raun, and Mr. Ramirez.

In the school year of 1983-84, honor classes were introduced to Juniors and Seniors. This department comprised fifty-two sections making it the largest in the school.

This year's Business Education Department offered several courses by way of office occupation.

Norwalk's business department was one of the best in the district because of the modern equipment such as the fifteen micro-computers used in word processing and accounting.

The department also taught typing shorthand, office occupations and senior office occupations.

These business classes were instructed by department chairperson Mrs. Thiele, Ms. Robinson, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Laing and Mr. Postuma.

Knowledge

Consumers

The Consumer Home Economics Department offered students a chance to develop living skills that will be of value through out their life.

Classes were offered in the areas of clothing, family and personal relations, marriage, life styles in today's society and child develop. The major goals of the teachers was to offer a variety of courses and subject matter to meet the individuals needs of students in a home-like atmosphere.

Reading is one of the most important and essential tasks that a student of Norwalk High School must be able to do well. However, the ability to read is not enough unless a student understands what he reads.

Therefore, one of the goals that the reading department had in the school year was to help Norwalk Students to comprehend what they were reading. This department also taught students study skills. The teachers in the department were, Ms. Apizar, Ms. Marshall, Ms. Lerner, Ms. Jones, and Mr. Espinoza.

Health

Let's talk about our bod's, that's exactly what this class is all about. Students learned how their body functioned and how to keep it working properly. You might have said, "What's there to learn that I don't already know," Well you're wrong, there's a lot to learn about your body and this class can help you. Students gained this knowledge in a class called Health. The health department consists of: Mr. D. Maertz, Mr. S. Posthuna, and Mr. L. Brunner who is chairman of the health department.

The Regional Occupational Program was to help students reach higher goals. For example, students learned vocational skills that were interesting and helpful. The program had a variety of training classes. It included such classes as animal care, landscaping, and welding.

In addition, the training helped students find a job. Throughout this program, students were also given the opportunity to earn extra credits towards graduation. As a student one could get an early start on future careers or even look deeper into college plans.

At Norwalk High, there were several ROP classes. The first was auto body. This class gave the students the opportunity to learn how to restore cars, learn the use of hand and power tools, work aids, and special devices to repair and paint automobiles.

Furthermore, word processing was offered in this school. Students were trained how to use memory typewriters and other related computer equipment. This program improved one's typing and proofreading skills also.

Lastly, Norwalk High was the only school in the district that provided a plastics program. This class helped to develop skills in the use of fiberglass and plastics.

Needless to say, there were many students that truly benefited from the ROP programs this past year!!!

Work Experience education was an accredited elective course. It aided students in improving their education while in school. This program gave students practical experience through a variety of occupational jobs.

ROP & Work Experience

With all of the fascinating discoveries in the computers field, the mathematics department was strengthened by adding more computers. This was done so that students were more exposed to this growing industry. However, students were still urged to take courses as algebra and geometry, for these courses were essential

The teachers in this department were K. Balma, B. Boysen, R. Dabey, J. dela Torre, R. Douglass, L. Gilmore, G. McClintock, R. Roadinger, M. Schneider, G. Sherrod, R. Smith, and W. Vetica.

Needless to say, Norwalk High School's Science department was one of the best in this district. The classes that were offered were basic science, biology, chemistry, life science, and physics. By taking such classes, students discovered more about our world aside and beneath material things through experiments.

The instructors in this department were Anka Montgomery, Diane Renzi, David Taylor, and Charles Warwick. Mr. Ed Martin was the department chairman.

Linda Morris and Carl Van Gorden were the Physical Education department chairpersons for the 1983-84 school year. The department consisted of the following instructors: S. Bales, T. Bales, J. Brinkley, E. Dominguez, J. Fattor, C. Gilbert, J. Hudson, D. Renzi, and J. Stuart.

P.E. played a major part in the students' day. A variety of vigorous activities gave them a break from all of the daily worries of academic courses. Not only did it offer standard P.E. courses, there was athletics, aerobics, and dance.

Principals Message To NHS Students

This yearbook serves as a pictorial history of the school year 1983-84. I hope each of you can look at these pages with the feeling of pride and satisfaction that comes with knowing you did your share in making it a successful year.

To our graduates, thank you for your excellent leadership. You will be missed, yet the memories of your many fine achievements will be recalled each time this yearbook is viewed.

As students at Norwalk High School, you are part of the Lancer tradition. I hope the knowledge and experience gained as students on this campus assists you in achieving your goals. Good luck to an outstanding Student Body.

E.D. Eberhard Principal

1984 marked Mr. Eberhard's third year as Principal of Norwalk High School. He was a tremendous aid in helping the school year run smoothly.

With the aid of assistant Principals Mr. Ullbarri and Mr. Paredes, the 1983-1984 school year was truly a success.

The students of Norwalk High School would like to express their appreciation and gratitude.

ADMINISTRATION

The students of Norwalk High School were indeed very fortunate to have had among their staff six terrific counselors who went out of their way to help and assist the students.

These counselors did all they could to help the students choose their classes, plan their careers, and prepare their futures.

Among the guidance counselors, there was Art Turman, who was in charge of the mighty Senior class. He was also in charge of eighth graders with the last name A-E. Mr. Turman has been a tremendous aid to all students by counseling them at NHS for twenty-eight years.

Ron Ternquist was in charge of the Junior class, along with eighth graders with last names of F-L. He's been working for Norwalk High School for seven years, and has helped many students in every way possible.

Molly deLeon was in charge of the Sophomore class, with the eighth graders with last names to M-Q. She has been helping and assisting the students for three years.

The last of the guidance counselors was Bert Briones, who took care of the freshman class. He was a great help to all he could.

Among the discipline/attendance counselors was Gil Soto, who assisted students with the last name of A-Lopez. He has been a counselor for three years.

Last but not least was Mrs. Craig, who has devoted twenty-eight years of effort, help, and assistance to Norwalk High School. She took care of everyone with the last name of Lord-Z. She was a greater helper and a friend to all who knew her.

COUNSELORS

The Norwalk High School Fine Arts department offered diverse alternatives from the rigors of academic courses.

The classes offered were of traditional art. They included arts and crafts, drawing, and painting. In addition, there was photography, music and choir.

This department consisted of the following teachers: Roy Hubbs, Jan McCamly, Ben Murillo, Maggie Regalado, Florence Russell, and Rick Secoda.

The Norwalk High School Foreign Language department gave students the opportunity not only to become bilingual but quadrilingual. They had the chance to learn about four instead of only two countries. That was due to the fact that French, German, and Spanish were taught. The program also offered English for those who use it as a second language.

The teachers in this department were: Torry Alpizar, Jesus dela Torre, Ernesto Grijalva, John Kostar, Anka Montgomery, and Maggie Regalado.

The 1983-84 Industrial Arts staff consisted of Mr. Bjorkman, Mr. Crabb, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Lew, and Mr. Nelbuhr. These teachers taught such classes as plastics, where the students made such things as canoes, electronics, where a student could learn to make various lights, auto mechanics, where students learned how to fix cars, and drafting, where students did projects such as computer drawings. Whether one is going to be an artist, wood worker, or work with electronics, all these classes are helpful.

- The Spectacular Students

Of Norwalk High School-

As in the past, the secretarial staff of Norwalk High School was extremely special. They worked assiduously to fulfill their daily duties. They typed, filed, answered phones, and made appointments with great efficiency. In addition, the secretaries were of the utmost help to the students of Norwalk High. Furthermore, they were of great service to the administrators and counselors. They advised the students of when or when not to see their counselors. All in all these special ladies keep the school running smoothly.

Secretaries

The security of Norwalk High School were known by the entire student body. They were led by the ever famous Phillis Koch. As always they did their job very well. Each one of their unique crew was out on campus every day to make sure the students stayed out of trouble. If someone seemed to be a little pugnacious, our security knew exactly what to do. Once again, Norwalk High's security proved to be the best. The crew consisted of Phillis Koch, Linda Galairiz, Cindy Morgen, and Frankie Sigola.

-that can make up for it & make sure well, I'm glad that I got to come & see you before. We've had some good times & some bad times. But when we look back, I think we were right? Well, I know that now or never we want the very best of friends. But one day we will get it back 2-gether. And be happy & all again, huh? So I hope you cute little adorable Bernice? You guys are a cute couple. Remember in 5th or 6th grade when I had a dance with you Friday? That was fun. Any more we have good old days? Well, you are a real sweet friend. I hope that I still live here next year so we can be 2-gether once again.
Good luck in the future, and don't miss so many days I love you,
Angel with all of my heart

Your best friend forever & always

They met once a month to discuss the major problems of the district with many top school administrators. Other than that the cabinet did it's normal assignment, Together the cabinet accomplished a lot of things and worked very well together. Starting off during summer the Senior class cabinet and various seniors worked hard on completing senior square before September. Along with Senior square their were many accomplishments throughout the year such as: Homecoming from decorating the stage, to getting crowns, to counting ballots, which took a lot of time but they managed. Having pizza parties, selling garters, and different other things getting ready for the ordering and distributing of caps and gowns, Senior breakfast, graduation and the rest of the activities that kept the Senior class on their feet and made the year very successful!

The Junior Class cabinet started off the year by having several fund raisers. Their main seller was balloons that brought in most of their money for their funds. They spent most of their time planning the prom. Many things had to be decided on within a matter of time, such as, what type of programs, glasses, tickets and all the rest of the accessories that go with a prom. A lot of time was spent on the prom which was a big success that once again had the festive atmosphere of balloons!

The new additions to the dance were door prizes. They included prom tickets, a picture packet, dinners at Bullwinkle's and Shakey's, and a baseball bag.

1. Balloons galore! 2. Dancin' the night away! 3. Girls League's successful booth. 4. Marry 'em Sam joining couples in marriage. 5. Get down, Adam! 6. Having fun at the computer booth. 7. A Life Time!!

Now comes the time to close the annual, and for me to finally get revenge on the staff for driving me crazy ...

HOPE BACA-Most likely to be found in Movieland Wax Museum. She did so much talking. I always wondered how she ever got anything accomplished.

LEA BROWN-Most likely to be in the Olympics (special) Always got her work done, we just couldn't keep her busy. When she was there, she was worrying about her many problems. Oh well, she's still a stud to me.

LIZ CASTANEDA-Most likely to own "Rude Looks". One of my favorites ever since we gave a test and she wrote how great the editors were (Give that girl and "A"!).

JAY CHRONISTER-Most likely to win an "Anne Lennox" look alike contest. That is, if I remember the way he looks.

ALICE D'ARIGGO-Most likely to start an orphanage for Cabbage Patch Dolls. Maybe we can have that Ken and Barbie party we talked about.

CHERYL DONLEY-Most likely to have problems with her boyfriend. My favorite to be mean to, which is my favorite past time.

MARY ANN GARCIA-Most likely to suffer of a severe case of writer's cramp.

ELIZABETH MARTIN-Most likely to invent a new color. No matter how hard we tried, we could never get Mary Ann and Elizabeth apart. Oh well, they always sold annuals anyway. (Or so we thought).

LAURA MARTINEZ-Most likely to be in some kind of trouble. One of the founder's of the Yearbook conceit award. She did good work when she wasn't taking a long lunch or thinking of Puds!

PAT MARTINEZ-Most likely to do things right Since she asked a million questions.

SANDRA MATSON-Winner of the Yearbook gift certificate, Since she was always out eating lunch.

PAUL MILROY-alias-The Invisible Man. Most likely to sleep in on the morning of his wedding.

LARRY MORALES-Most likely to buy Coke instead of Pepsi. Remember Buddy, you still owe Nora and me lunch if you want to pass this class.

MARY MOYER-Most likely to die a virgin, that's what you get for spilling your guts out to Jenny and me. Did great work but always wanted to do it her way.

BRET McDONALD-Most likely to look over your shoulder when you least expect him.

JOSE VELEZ-Most likely to get mobbed at a Menudo concert. Whenever I needed a laugh, I just looked at his cropped pictures.

SHIRLEY WILSON-Most likely to get this #$$$? job next year.

STEVE WAGNER-Most likely to die from too much salt.

To my wonderful Editorial Staff, thanks for putting up with all the ignorance of this staff.

DAVID DREW-Most likely to get lost in the dark room. Probably the only person to put up with everything, including me.

TRINA UTLEY-Most likely to have Shaun Cassidy posters on her bedroom walls.

VIRGINIA ALBERTO-Most likely to be the only one laughing at her own jokes.

NORA RIVERA-Most likely to have someone in love with her. Special thanks for being there when I had my bad days, and you're still my friend! Good Luck with that Italian "College Man."

JENNY RIOS-Most likely to put in a page of herself. Who, when she wasn't with her body guards, spent at least 8 hours a day trying to complete deadline with me. The other founder of Conceit award.

Despite everything, I would like to thank congratulate the El Lancero staff not only for completing the book, but for enduring all my lectures and my temper.

To RICK SECODA-I bet you thought we would never get done! I don't know whether to thank you for my job or not. (If I did, it would mean I love ulcers) Well, thanks for the trust and for making it easier. Good luck next year, if you're foolish enough to take it again.

TO THE CLASS OF 1984-SUCCESS!

A sweet person that I'm happy to have as a friend. So bad we couldn't talk much to each other, but that's because you hardly come to school. By the way did you pass all your classes?
 Keep in touch ok? Love,
 Rosie
